Dear Mr. Stangeland,

Your recent letter in which you request an interview with an officer of this Agency has been referred to me for response.

It is our policy not to grant such interviews, and we cannot make an exception in your case despite the assurances you were kind enough to include in your request. I ask you to understand that this position is necessitated by the very nature of intelligence work.

However, I am pleased to enclose some material about this Agency and its role. I hope you will find the material useful.

Thank you for your interest.

Sincerely,

Deputy Assistant
